Supply List for Drawing

The top 3 items are required.

HB, 2B, 4B, 6B Drawing Pencils (General's Blue Semi Hex, Design, Sanford, Derwent, or Prang) – make sure it says "drawing pencil" and not sketch pencil.

1 X-Large Kneaded Eraser (Prismacolor- please buy this brand – others are not as good). You will probably go through more than one of these during the year.

White "Factis BM2" Pencil Eraser - this is a must in drawing class. Please do not substitute with another pencil eraser. If you have a problem finding this, let me know.

1 Small (Spiral or Bound) Sketch Pad (around $51/2'' \times 8 \frac{1}{2}''$) this is for the weekly sketches required for class. But if you really don't think you will continue drawing in it after this class, you can omit buying it and turn in the required sketches on loose paper stapled together. I think it's nice to keep all your sketches in one place though. If you are considering art for college, I would recommend getting a slightly larger pad, and perhaps a bound one (not spiral bound).

The following are optional – only if you would like to own them – I keep these items in the PEP room.

1 11 x 14 Spiral Bound "Drawing" Pad (Strathmore 80 lb. or Canson 70 lb.) If you think you might like to have your own drawing pad, then I would definitely buy one of these pads.

Drawing Board – This is really a must in my mind if you love to draw. If so, I would invest in one. You can bring yours but I have these in the classroom to use. Buy one if you would like to use it at home. The best ones have one large clip (which will accommodate most artist pads), instead of the ones having 2 spring clips (these are too small to hold most pads). Hobby Lobby carries an 18 x 18 drawing board with one clip. Do not get a larger board than this.

I would also advise labeling as many items as you can. I am always finding pencils and erasers left behind each class and have no way of knowing whose they are.
